Chicago Minister Says Man
Police Pitted Is No
Son of His.

MARRIED HIS NURSE

Man Who Claimed He Stole for Starving Wife Known in Other Cities.

LOCKED UP AS CRAZY

In Detroit and Chicago He Is Thought to Be Partially Demented.

When Oliver Hamilton was arrested Saturday night on the charge of snatching a purse from a woman at Broadway and Locust street, he told a pathetic story of the hunger of himself and wife, despite continued efforts to get employment.

The police listened and believed. When he said he was the son of Rev. W. B. Hamilton, rector of an Episcopal church at Detroit, and his wife, tearful and wan, went to the Four Courts and substantiated his story, the police were touched and gave him $2 and his freedom. He went back to his rooming house on O'Farrell avenue and neighbors began to help him with supplies.

But the police chief in Hamilton as an innocent victim of hard luck has received a rude shock from investigation here and in Detroit and Chicago. They have found that in St. Louis he spent much of his time in saloons, reading ward ads early in the morning, and then sitting around in the barroom until ordered out. News dispatches from Detroit and Chicago say Rev. Dr. Hamilton denies any relationship with him, and that he has been subject to attacks of insanity.

Career in Detroit.

From Detroit comes this story of his career in that city:

Oliver Hamilton's romantic marriage in Detroit to Miss Etta Fensy, an Emergency Hospital nurse, took place in April, 1904.

Hamilton, having been captured on the street one night and sent to Emergency Hospital. He was violent, and it was necessary to bind him. Within a day he recovered his senses sufficiently to tell of himself. It was a strange story, but he had a convincing style.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Troubles by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent Eastern cities by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, lived in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigor. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another. I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, without any marked improvement.

"Friends had often advised me to try a well-known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy, but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short, I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store and after taking three tablets after each meal and occasionally a tablet between meals when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was going to cure completely and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and sleep and enjoy my coffee and beer and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy asking for information as to what the tablets contained and they replied that the principal ingredients were ascorbic acid (government test), malted barley and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach.

"The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, give the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system to receive the nourishment which can only come from food. Stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength, they give fictitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Every drop of food, every nerve and tissue is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can insure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years, probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach trouble.

MISS ROOSEVELT HOMEWARD BOUND

President's Daughter, Boarding
Steamer Siberia, Given Great Send-Off.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 12.—The Pacific Mail steamship Siberia sailed for San Francisco at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon with Miss Alice Roosevelt and her traveling companions, E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific Co., and his party on board.

The distinguished Americans were given a great send-off by the Japanese, the resident foreigners and the civil officials.

In the third ward of the hospital was Miss Fensy, who had recently come from St. Thomas, Ont., to become a trained nurse. She had fluffy brown hair and sympathetic blue eyes, and was small and frail—just the opposite of the big fellow who was brought to her ward.

Soon the nurse and her patient developed a strong friendship. Then Hamilton was declared well enough to leave the hospital. Next morning Miss Fensy was not at her post. She and Hamilton had gone to Windsor and been married by a Methodist minister.

They went to Chicago and that was the last that Miss Fensy's Detroit friends knew of her until they heard of Hamilton's arrest in St. Louis for theft.

Not Minister's Son.

The Chicago dispatch says:

"Oliver Hamilton poses as the son of Rev. W. B. Hamilton, pastor of the aristocratic Calvary Episcopal Church. He was once a noted figure in Chicago society, but became an exile after he had made life a burden for the Rev. Dr. Hamilton with his importuning letters.

"He is not my son, but for some time he persecuted me with letters addressed to me as 'dear father,' demanding money and claiming rights to a son could not command," said Dr. Hamilton today.

"I have never seen young Hamilton, though he often tried to see me. I believe he is demented."

Postoffice Inspector Stuart was appealed to by Dr. Hamilton when the boarder of his apartment was at his night, and the Government officer compelled young Hamilton to leave Chicago.

Young Hamilton has been in difficulty in many cities. After his marriage in Detroit he came to Chicago, living at the best hotels, going in society, and spending money lavishly. Then he and his wife disappeared from the view of Chicagoans, and nothing was heard of them until his arrest in St. Louis.

Woodwink the Police.
Hamilton has gone to New Mexico, it is said by his wife, who is now living at the home of Paul Gabel, 1219 Broadway avenue. He left Wednesday and expects to get a position there. Since the publication of the story of his misfortune he has received many offers of assistance, and through some of these offers he was enabled to take the trip.

SUICIDE BY ACCIDENT.

Woman Falls Downstairs at Attempt to Hang Self.

MARIETTA, Pa., Oct. 12.—After giving the sexton $1 to see that her grave was kept green, Miss Elizabeth Book, aged 42 years, told her invalid mother that she was going to the attic to clear out some boxes.

A third on the stairs shortly after came a publication, and the woman's lifeless body was found. She had attempted to hang herself, the rope snarled and she fell downstairs, breaking her neck.

Brother of Machinist Went to See Him and Made Gruesome Discovery.

John Gebisser, 37 years old, a machinist, employed at the St. Louis Car and Foundry Works, was found dead at 10:30 a. m. Friday in his room on the second floor at 4109 North Broadway. A deep gash in the wrist and parietal green scattered over the floor indicated to the police that Gebisser had killed himself.

The discovery was made by the dead man's brother, Frank Gebisser, who received a letter from John early Friday morning notifying him that he was ill and probably would not recover.

The letter further stated that he (John) had $25 in wages coming to him and asked his brother, in the event of his death, to defray the funeral expenses with this money and notify his wife, who is living in Hungary, of which the suicide was a native.

Frank Gebisser notified Policeman Wynch of the discovery and the body was sent to the morgue.

The police say Gebisser had been ill for some time and had grown despondent, working over his condition.

Ink Salesman Resents Starter's Effort to Exclude Him.

When Walter C. McNulty of 5727 Theodosia avenue, an ink salesman, accompanied by Phillip Rosenbaum, attempted to enter an elevator in the Lincoln Trust Building Friday afternoon, Geo. M. Musick, the starter, stopped him and told him that solicitors were not allowed in the building.

McNulty insisted that he was not a solicitor and entered the elevator. Musick also boarded it and the controversy continued. When the car reached the fifth floor McNulty says that Musick cut him and they had an encounter.

McNulty had Policeman Dixon arrest Musick, and he was taken to the Four Courts. Capt. Reynolds told McNulty he would have to get a warrant and arrest Musick. McNulty said he would apply for a warrant.

IS FEDERATED ANARCHY

Mutual Life's Counsel Pleads
for Federal Supervision as Insurance Cure.

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—There is romance in the career of Louis A. Thebaud's rise from obscurity to a position under the Mutual Life Insurance Co., which pays him $37,000 a year, and the testimony of his father-in-law, President McCurdy, that he had no knowledge of how his son-in-law reached it, has convinced many that the Mutual Life's president suffered from the stand an unfortunate loss of memory.

Thebaud, a member of a family of French descent, was born in Madison, N. J. In his early career his income, it is said, never exceeded $30 a week.

In the eighties he met President McCurdy's daughter, Gertrude, some years his elder, and fell in love.

The match was opposed furiously by the McCurdys. Not only was Thebaud an impecunious clerk, but he was a Roman Catholic, while Miss McCurdy was a member of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church in Plainfield, N. J.

Finally the McCurdys gave in. There was to be a wedding in the Plainfield church, with all the pomp proper to the marriage of a daughter of a great life insurance company's president, but marriage in a Protestant church was out of the question.

Thebaud and Gertrude, without notice, the couple eloped to New York and were married in St. Patrick's Cathedral in this city.

The McCurdys were furious. The young couple sailed for Europe to escape parental wrath. A year later President McCurdy relented sufficiently to give the young husband a sort of poor relation job in the Newark office of the Mutual Life.

Just what young Mr. Thebaud did to draw a salary of $25,000 a year while in the Newark office no one is ready to say. Apparently he was saddled upon the expense account of the company and supported at the cost of the policy holders.

From $600 to $37,000 a Year.
About a year later there came a change. The McCurdys forgave and forgot. Young Mr. Thebaud's father called upon Mr. McCurdy and was closeted a long while with him. Just what was said was never revealed. What was done was to make Louis A. Thebaud secretary of the executive special agency of the great Mutual Life Insurance Co., a place which in salary and commissions was worth $37,000 the first year Thebaud held it.

In one bound this fortunate young man jumped from a salary of $250 a month to a place which, according to testimony of his father-in-law before the Investigating Committee, gave him last year an income of $147,687.

And the young New Jersey clerk made the most of his romance and his opportunities. There are fewer country places in all New Jersey finer than that of Mr. Thebaud.

Makley Given $10,000 to Go.
At the time of the sudden elevation of Thebaud, J. F. Makley held the place given to the former and was getting $5,000 a year, who held a five-year contract with the Mutual Life, but there was a clause in it which made it possible for the Mutual Life to end it by paying Makley $10,000. In case Makley left the company he was to receive $10,000. Instead of asking Makley to resign, McCurdy, well informed insurance men said, decided to make Charles H. Raymond and Thebaud were to have Makley and elected to take the $10,000 in order to advance the son-in-law of President McCurdy from a position paying $50 a month to one which ultimately was to pay him $147,000 a year.

J. F. Makley, who was displaced to make way for Thebaud, is now the General Manager of the New York branch of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Montpelier, Vt., with offices at No. 14 Broadway.

"I was with the Mutual Life and care to say nothing further," he said.

INSURANCE SYSTEM IS FEDERATED ANARCHY

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—"The New York insurance investigation will do a service of incalculable value to the country if it only holds up the American people to a realization of the system of federated anarchy which exists in the insurance situation as it is, we are living," said James M. Beck, former assistant Attorney-General of the United States, and at present special counsel to the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, in an address he delivered here to the agents of the Northwestern Fire Underwriters Association.

Continuing, he said:

"Let those who complain of the large sums expended by insurance companies to defeat effective legislation remember that the insurance companies rarely spend a dollar to secure favorable legislation. They ask no appropriation, they decline to talk about the matter."

"The insurance system is sick, but too many doctors are crowding at the bedside to give and project a full recovery. This intolerable condition

FIRE DESTROYS BIG BOATS IN A HALF HOUR

Loss on Corwin H. Spencer Estimated at $120,000, on Tug $7000.

A CLOSE CALL FOR TWO

Watchman on McClelland Was Aroused by Stones Thrown Through Window.

BROLASKI PULLED BACK

Flames From Towboat at Foot of Franklin Av. 3 a. m. Lighted Up River.

Fire at 3 a. m. Friday almost totally destroyed the big tug McClelland of the Virginia Ferry Co., at the foot of Franklin avenue, the spectacular flames lighting up the river district for a wide area. Private Watchman Claude Whipp had a narrow escape. This followed the fire of last night Thursday, when the steamer Corwin H. Spencer, largest boat in Western waters, was burned to the hull, entailing a loss of about $120,000, and giving Capt. Harry Brolaski a close call for his life, near Jefferson Barracks.

The McClelland was practically consumed in ten minutes, while within less than 20 minutes the flames had run up the Spencer. Both boats smoldered for a long while. The McClelland was valued at $23,000. The loss is estimated at $7000, without insurance.

Tom Murphy, watchman for the United Electric Light and Power Co., at the foot of Carr street, to arouse the watchman on the McClelland threw stones through the window of a state-room.

Three Stones at Window.

He was standing in the doorway of his shack, Murphy says, when he saw flames burst from a window on the boiler deck of the McClelland. He directed Walter Skinner, a car inspector, to send in an alarm, while he ran down the levee to the boat. He yelled several times, but received no response from within the burning steamer. Then he picked up some stones and threw them through the window, from which the flames were coming.

A moment later the watchman came running from the boat carrying a trunk and a bundle of clothes.

The department, on arrival, found little that it could do. The boat had burned with remarkable rapidity and was destroyed, with the exception of the water-protected hull.

Watchman Whipp said he was working in the engine room at 3 a. m., when he heard a noise on the levee.

There were flames reaching out from every side, with the only opening in front of him, as he left the stateroom, he says.

Whipp has no explanation for the fire. The room in which he says he thinks it began was bare of furniture.

When asked by a reporter of the Post-Dispatch how he could make such a broad offer in regard to any medicine, Mr. Wolf of the above firm replied:

"If Vinol were a patent or secret preparation it would be another thing, but it is not, everything it contains is named on the label.

Vinol is simply the up-to-date form of administering cod liver oil, which for centuries has been recognized as the grandest of all body-building agents for wasted human strength and vitality, and during the last five years we have seen it produce such grand results that we are now willing to back it with any kind of a guarantee.

In Vinol we have simply done away with the useless, system-clogging oil and have given to the people all the medicinal, body-building elements of cod liver oil in a highly concentrated and deliciously palatable form, and we have never sold in our store a medicine of more curative and strengthening value than Vinol, and if the people of St. Louis would not have clerked enough in our store to supply the demand for it, in a natural manner Vinol tones up the digestive organs, makes rich and blood and creates strength. We can only ask the people of St. Louis to try it on our guarantee." Wolf-Wilson Drug Co.

and furnishings, he says, and had not been occupied for some time. When the fire had almost burned itself out, the tug Andrew Christy towed the McClelland across the river to a point above the Eads bridge, where it usually lies.

The McClelland was in charge of Capt. Michaels, who was not aboard last night.

Spencer Burned Fast. The charred remains of a hull, almost under water, and a boiler which sticks half way out of the water, are all that remain of the Corwin H. Spencer. The fire started in the cook's room. Fred Hemmerly, the boat's watchman, says that the steamer burned like a sheet of paper. Hemmerly was standing on the bank with Harry Brolaski, captain and owner of the boat, when he spotted the fire.

"I believe that something is burning," said Hemmerly. "Nothing could be done."

Then a great flame shot up through the hull.

"The boat was enveloped in flames within three minutes," it seemed, said Hemmerly. "There was a breeze blowing from the south, and the first blaze started on the boiler deck. The flames ran up the side of the boat, and the men grabbed him and pulled him back to shore. He sprang and left Brolaski slipping.

Painters were removing the boat. Brolaski says he carried $30,000 insurance.

The Corwin H. Spencer is owned by Capt. Brolaski and his father, H. W. Brolaski.

DISCUSS RADIUM CURES.

Homeopaths at New York Tell of Experiments in Tuberculous Diseases.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—At a meeting of the Homeopathic Society of the County of New York at Carnegie Lyceum last night the physicians expressed great satisfaction at the progress made in curing tumors, cancers and infectious diseases by means of radium.

Dr. William H. Diefenbach read a paper on New Methods of Applying Radium. He said that he had used radium in the treatment of cancer and infectious diseases, and had found it to be very effective.

Dr. W. H. King said that he had used radium in the treatment of cancer and infectious diseases, and had found it to be very effective.

It is important, he said, to restrict the circulation to certain parts, so that the effects may be localized. Otherwise the blood will carry the radium around the body, and it will be of no use.

HONESTY ALWAYS WINS.

Preacher Holds Unfair Means Not Necessary in Business.

"Better be honest and fail than be dishonest and succeed. But let a man practice honesty and see if he does not succeed."

Rev. William Jones of Hyde Park Congregational church, in his address before the St. Louis Congregational Association in Fountain Park Church Thursday night, held forth on the subject of honesty.

Some of the largest enterprises in the country, which are conducted on a basis of honesty, prove the mistake of those among whom are some who consider themselves exemplary Christians, who think they must use dishonest methods to succeed in business.

"Without honesty the great business man will be forgotten. How little we quote of Croesus, the Rockefeller of his day."

The meeting closed Thursday night with an address by Rev. Charles E. Mills on "The Heart of Evangelism."

The application was passed on motion, and the meeting adjourned.

DID COMMISSIONERS GO?

Applicant, Disappointed, Told 'Em to Go to Hades.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 12.—Perhaps the most unique official record is that made by the County Auditor of Meade County, in the proceedings of a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, as published in the official newspaper, appears the following paragraph, which is verbatim:

"C. Polk appeared and made application for the Western Bank and Trust Co. The application was on motion denied, he claiming the same having been levied without authority of law. The applicant stated that one of the commissioners to go to Hades."

Meade County is situated in the extreme western part of the State, north of the Missouri river, and contains many large cattle ranches.

APPROVE BARRING OF UNITARIANS ON CLIENT'S CHARGE

Universalists Also Not Invited to Church Federation Conference.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Unmindful of the storm of protest of the exclusion of the Unitarian delegates from the coming conference of the National Federation of Churches, the Executive Committee in charge of the matter ratified the action of their secretary.

Unitarians all over the country have been aroused by the refusal to admit Dr. Edward Everett Hale, John D. Long, former Secretary of the Navy, and the Rev. Dr. Samuel A. Eliot, son of the president of Harvard University.

There is a strong probability that the committee's action will be challenged on the floor of the convention when it meets at Carnegie Hall next month.

Universalists as well as Unitarians were not included when the invitations were sent out. The committee decided that the Unitarians should be drawn between church organizations which recognize Jesus Christ as head of the church and those who do not.

Dr. Minot J. Savage best covers the ground for the Universalists in commenting on the situation, saying: "Those who assert that belief in the divinity of Jesus Christ is an important element in salvation are at least inconsistent in excluding us from their work of saving souls. They are consistent, just as were Catholics who burned Protestants who murdered Catholics in the middle ages. It is, however, rather late to be living up to such ideas of consistency."

MINISTER'S WIFE SUES A PREACHER

Mrs. Drake-Gamble - Cooley-Buckner Charges Rev. Betts With Slander.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 12.—Mrs. Margaret Drake-Gamble-Cooley-Buckner, wife of the Rev. A. B. Buckner, until last week pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Holston, started this city by filing in the District Court Thursday a suit against the Rev. S. E. Betts for $500 for malicious slander.

The Rev. Mr. Buckner and the Rev. Mr. Betts are among the best-known Methodist ministers of the State.

In her petition Mrs. Buckner charges that in September Dr. Betts slandered her husband by saying that he was a drunkard and a liar.

Mrs. Buckner's husband was a minister of the Gospel for many years, and was a man of high character and high standing in the community.

Mrs. Buckner charges that Dr. Betts' slanderous statements have caused her husband to lose his position as pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Holston.

USE PISTOLS AND BRICKS IN BATTLE

Desperate Fight Between Three Brothers—Bystander Fatally Hurt.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

POMEROY, O., Oct. 11.—Former Chief of Police O. H. Myers of this city, and his two brothers, John, an attorney, and Arthur, a ballplayer, fought a desperate battle in Middleport, as a result of which William Haag, a Middleport liverman and a bystander, is lying at the point of death with a bullet in his head.

John A. Myers was shot in the side. O. H. Myers is under arrest. Arthur has eluded the officers, and is now on the opposite side of the river.

O. H. and John A. Myers fought with revolvers and Arthur with bricks. Twelve shots were fired.

O. H. and John A. Myers had not been on good terms for some time, and the fight started over the division of a crop on a farm.

They met at Haag's lively stable, and a duel was started at once. Each had two revolvers, and they began to shoot at each other from opposite sides of a buggy.

Arthur Myers, who sided with O. H., picked up a half brick and hurled it at John A., but missed him and struck Haag, the proprietor of the stable. As Haag lay on the ground one of the others shot him through the head. Each alleges the other fired the fatal shot.

It is charged that Wuertz, in company with William Dever, a theatrical manager, entered the home of Charles Corn, on North Second street, and forcibly ejected him from the house, telling him he was under arrest. After they left Corn about his head, they told him to go. He went directly to the police station and reported the affair.

Admiral Asserts Old Ones Are Menace to the Navy.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—In an interview published today Admiral Dewey says old men are a menace to the navy. "The nation will assuredly meet with disaster in a naval war unless younger men are given command of the ships of our navy. Continuing the older men in command of the ships of the navy would be a certain menace to the country. In the event of a war we would see, in all probability, a repetition of the deplorable events which occurred in the first year or two of the Civil War. You remember that disaster followed disaster, and it was not until younger men were placed in command of our fighting vessels that victories succeeded reverses."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—The Supreme Court yesterday decided that the order issued by Superior Judge Coffey appointing a special administrator on the petition of Edna Wallace Hopper to take charge of the property of her stepfather, Alexander Dunsen, was wrong, and approves the petition of James Dunsen, distributor of the estate, to prohibit the administrator from taking the property out of his hands.

By this decision Edna Wallace Hopper loses an important point by which she hoped eventually to have the dead millionaire's will broken on the ground of fraud and undue influence.

"ST. LOUIS SHOULD REDUCE GARBAGE"

Exhaustive Report on Subject by Committee From Civic Improvement League in Which Reduction Is Asserted to Be Better and Cheaper Than Incineration.

The Public Sanitation Committee of the Civic Improvement League, after two years' work on the garbage problem, made its formal report to the Executive Board. The committee has investigated the garbage situation in practically all of the large cities in America and this summer sent the secretary of the league, Mayo Foster, to the leading cities in the United States to investigate at first hand the various methods in use. The report, as issued, which has received the endorsement of the Executive Board of the league, strongly urges upon the city the necessity of making scientific tests of the garbage before adopting any particular process and concludes with a recommendation in favor of the reduction process which the committee declares has proven to be sanitary, more economical and satisfactory in all but one of the first 15 cities in America.

St. Louis System Condemned.
The report, after making a clear distinction between garbage collection and garbage disposal, says of the method of collection in St. Louis: "No one will maintain that the present system in St. Louis is sanitary. It is practically impossible to make the wooden beds of the present wagons sanitary, even though they are lined with heavy sheet-iron. This lining merely serves as a catch-all for the foul material which unavoidably collects under it. Furthermore, the drop gate of the present wagons make it impossible to prevent the filthy water from dripping along the street. The only strictly sanitary form of bed is one of solid metal, with parts carefully riveted together, kept well painted, water-tight and capable of being thoroughly cleaned after each load is emptied."

"The present system is also far from being the most economical. The long haul from the extreme limits of the city—north, west and south to the one central dump on the river—makes the collection much more expensive than is necessary, as is shown by the figures from the Comptroller's office for the months of April to July. The total tonnage for the year 1904, based upon figures for the first six months of the year, will be approximately 70,000 tons. The total cost of the collection, based upon the figures for the first six months of the year, will be approximately $1,000,000. This means that the city is paying $14.28 per ton for collection alone."

To Reduce Expense.
The report suggests two ways of reducing the expense of collection. "Either by the erection of three or four disposal plants in different sections of the city, so located that the length of the haul will be reduced to a minimum; or by the erection of a large number of receiving stations in various parts of the city, equipped with street car side tracks, driving up to the stations, so that the loaded steel beds can, without unloading the garbage within the city, be hauled to the disposal plant on flat cars provided by one of the street or steam railway companies."

There are two serious objections to the first of these plans. No section of the city will submit to the erection of a garbage plant in it without a serious protest. Property in the vicinity of such a plant is bound to depreciate in value. For a garbage disposal plant in the residential portion of the city would be met with a storm of opposition. And the wealthiest residents of the city would be right to object to a nuisance of this kind that the humblest property owner in the city would not object to. In the second place, three or four disposal plants will cost considerably more for maintenance than a single plant."

Collection of Garbage.
The committee's recommendations for the collection of the garbage is: "The garbage should be collected by means of removable water-tight steel beds; the erection of several receiving stations and switches in different sections of the city, equipped with driveways and lifting cranes, and a contract with the United Railways Co. or other electric or steam railway company, to haul the loaded flat cars to the disposal plant and to return the beds after they are thoroughly cleaned to the receiving stations. This system of hauling, at present in use in Washington, D. C., Indianapolis, Detroit and a number of smaller cities, has been thoroughly sanitary and satisfactory. Furthermore, this method of unloading the garbage at the disposal plant by means of a crane and a platform scale, with a chute leading down to the disposal plant, has been found to be the most economical and scientific method of disposing of the city's garbage. It is the present unsanitary method, $2.67 per ton."

Disposal.
The report then discusses the various methods of garbage disposal—dumping, incineration and reduction. "No one will defend the first as being in any sense sanitary. Dumping is the worst possible method that could be devised. This is clearly indicated by the fact that the city of Chicago, which has adopted this method, has been forced to close the dump at the outlet as unsanitary, antiquated and a nuisance to health. "The second, that of incineration, has proven a failure in so many cities in this country that it should not be adopted in St. Louis until after the most exhaustive and scientific investigation of the problem has been made by experts in the field. It is a question of whether or not cremation is feasible."

ments have not justified the adoption of this method of garbage disposal."

Some Incinerators Failures.
"Pittsburg operated for years an overworked and unsatisfactory incinerator, and has finally built a reduction plant. The Garbage Contracting Co. in Indianapolis, a few years ago, erected an incinerator for the purpose of burning simply the garbage; after a few months' test, the plant was closed as being unsatisfactory and too expensive. Today the company is using the reduction process."

On the other hand two of our cities above the 2,000 mark, and a number of smaller cities, are operating successfully incinerators, where garbage, street sweepings and miscellaneous refuse is burned. Reports from Memphis and Minneapolis show that their incinerating plants are giving satisfaction, but in all of these cases the city burns with the garbage the entire refuse of the city."

Incinerating Not Economical.
"From the economic point of view, the arguments are strongly against the incineration process and in favor of the reduction process. No incinerator can burn the garbage at a profit to the city and few contractors will guarantee to burn the garbage at less than 50 cents per ton. The reduction process, on the other hand, has been shown at least one excellent example of a municipally-controlled reduction plant which has operated for six months at an actual profit of over $300 to the city. This record has been made by Cleveland, O. The following figures are taken from the official reports of W. J. Springborn, Director of the Board of Public Service of that city:

Gross income from the sale of by-products and other incidental sources $3,013.75
Pains, insurance, depreciation and interest on investment 26,579.25
Profit to the city $3,424.16
"Mr. Springborn further adds in a letter that he feels confident that after the new plant now under construction is completed, the city will have a net profit of $10,000 per year from the reduction plant."

"The Committee has compiled the following tables from the most reliable estimates obtainable in order to indicate the comparative cost of the different methods of garbage disposal for the collection and disposal of the city's garbage."

Present Cost of Collection and Disposal in St. Louis.
Amount of garbage collected for six months (based upon figures for the months of April to September) 70,000 tons
Cost of collection at $14.28 per ton present actual rate $1,000,000
Cost of land for disposal plant $1,000,000
Total annual cost for handling garbage $1,000,000

Estimated Cost by Incinerating Process.
(Figures based upon prices paid by other cities and propositions made to other cities.)
CONSTRUCTION OF PLANTS.
Cost of four (30-gallon capacity) incinerators $80,000.00
Cost of land for disposal plant $1,000,000.00
Total cost for construction $1,080,000.00

COLLECTION AND DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE.
Cost of collection 70,000 tons garbage at $14.28 per ton (counting the fee per ton for burning garbage as included with refuse) $1,000,000.00
4 per cent interest on investment $40,000.00
10 per cent for depreciation of property ($80,000, not including land) 8,000.00
Total annual cost by incineration $1,048,000.00

Estimated Cost by Deduction Process.
CONSTRUCTION OF PLANT.
Cost of one (200-ton capacity) reduction plant $125,000.00
Cost of four receiving stations $40,000.00
Cost of land for receiving stations and reduction plant $15,000.00
Total cost for construction $200,000.00

COLLECTION AND DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE.
Cost of collection 70,000 tons garbage at $14.28 per ton $1,000,000.00
Cost of disposal by reduction (based upon experience and Cleveland figures) $1,000,000.00
4 per cent interest on investment ($200,000) 8,000.00
10 per cent for depreciation of property ($150,000) 15,000.00
Total cost by reduction $1,023,000.00
These estimates, which, if they have been made, have been on the side of the incineration process, will indicate that in

STREET MEETING UP TO POLICE

If Socialists Obstruct Traffic, Will Be Dispersed, Says Stewart.

COUNSELOR FREES MAYOR

Patrolmen Given Power to Use Clubs if Men, Violating Law, Resist.

It is "up to" Chief of Police Kieley to permit or prevent the meeting which the Socialists declare they will hold in the city hall, Friday night, Twelfth street, near Olive, Friday night, President Stewart of the Board of Police Commissioners said Friday the police had orders to stop the meeting if the law was violated. He said:

"If the Socialists blockade a public thoroughfare Friday night—and blockading means the impeding of traffic, whether it is interrupting the progress of an automobile, a horse or an individual—the Socialists will be requested to disperse. If they refuse to disperse it will be the duty of the police to arrest them; and if they resist the officers it will be the duty of the police to use their clubs. We do not believe in policemen clubbing people, but if an offender will not submit to arrest there is nothing else for a policeman to do but to use force."

The board's instructions to the police are to see that the law is not violated, but to use discretion and to make sure that there is no violation of the law before attempting dispersement or arrest. The police will be the sole judges. Mayor I. Underwood has refused permits to various organizations for street meetings, though he has given a permit to the Salvation Army. So long as he is willing to shoulder the responsibility, the police will not interfere.

"The Salvation Army, however, is not large and doesn't remain long on the street, and, while it may violate the ordinance in a technical sense, it does a good work."

Counselor's Opinion.
At the Mayor's request, City Counselor Bates has given an opinion that the Mayor has no right to issue permits for the obstruction of highways by the congregation of people for public meetings or other purposes. The Mayor says it is not his duty, but that of the police, to determine whether the streets are obstructed.

The City Counselor holds that while the right to free speech is unquestioned, public meetings in public streets are no more lawful than are meetings on private property without the consent of the owner. The holding of public meetings on a public thoroughfare, he says, "necessarily, to some extent at least, interferes with the free and unobstructed travel thereon, and to this extent public meetings on the highways are not lawful. He holds that the authority of the police to arrest for obstructing the streets, to justify persons who refuse to vacate, is ample."

the long run the reduction process can be operated by the city for practically $200 less than the incineration process. "Your committee, with a predisposition in favor of the incineration process after careful investigations into the experiences of other cities; after reading the reports of the city's sanitary experts, and after hearing the report of the secretary, who the summer personally visited the plants in six of the larger cities, has found the evidence strongly against the incineration process and in favor of the reduction process. The reduction process has been well tried and is proving permanently satisfactory in practically all of the first 15 cities in America. The incineration process is yet in the experimental stage, having had a very checkered career up to the present time. It has not as yet strongly enough recommended itself as a permanently satisfactory method to any of the first 15 cities in America to justify its adoption by any one of them."

For Municipal Ownership.
"In all of these investigations, we have assumed that whatever process is adopted it should be placed under municipal control. No private company can safely be given a sufficiently long term franchise to justify it in erecting a first-class plant. The city will be in the business permanently and can safely erect a thoroughly competent and modern plant."

A complete municipal system for collecting and disposing of the garbage of this city is a practical scheme which is at present unhampered by any old ordinances or contracts. The city authorities have a free hand in this matter. No system, apparatus or process of treatment should be considered which will not give the city immunity from the nuisances which characterized the old regime and which will not guarantee the public a perfectly sanitary, permanent and economical solution of the garbage problem."

The League is firmly convinced of the correctness of the committee's recommendation and will strongly support the committee in its efforts to secure the adoption by the city of some form of reduction instead of incineration which has been proposed by the Board of Public Improvement. The members of the League's committee are: J. Hal Lynch, chairman; Dr. J. S. Spiegelhalter, Hon. John J. Terry, Dr. M. C. Clifton, Philip C. Scanlan, Prof. J. L. Van Ornum and Dr. H. W. Bartscher.

TRIED SIX TIMES TO END HER LIFE

Girl at Door of Hope Mission Unconscious From Carbolic Acid.

THREE EFFORTS TO DIE

Once She Says She Took Coal Gas and Again Rough on Rats.

For the sixth time Theresa Uhlendorf, who resides at the Door of Hope Mission, 215 North Thirteenth street, has attempted suicide and is in serious condition at City Hospital from four ounces of carbolic acid.

This is the first time she has tried to kill herself at the mission, although she has been living at the rescue home at intervals for two years. According to the girl's story, told to Mrs. Laura Masterson, temporarily in charge of the mission, the girl has tried to end her life three times by jumping in the river, once by inhaling coal gas and once by taking rough on rats.

For three days she has been crying and saying she did not want to live, but Mrs. Masterson and others tried to console her and thought they had turned her from thoughts of suicide.

Shortly after 6 p. m. Thursday her moaning attracted the attention of Mrs. Masterson, who found her unconscious in her room.

"The Door of Hope never turns anyone away," said Mrs. Masterson, "and the offender women who have been here come back, the harder we work to bring them to a right state of mind. Theresa has been here off and on for two years and has never attempted suicide before while here. She told me, however, of five attempts. She had been ill and we do not consider her entirely sane."

Brown lost one eye, one leg was fractured and he suffered internal injuries. The machine was entirely wrecked, portions of it being carried 100 yards.

SLEEP WITHOUT DRUGS.

Doctor at Medical Convention Tells of New Insomnia Cure.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 12.—At the Mississippi Valley Medical Convention Dr. J. B. Leonard of Northampton, Mass., gave an interesting demonstration of his "muscular method" of inducing sleep, as opposed to the use of drugs. He said that a result of an accident 25 years ago he became a victim of insomnia. To treat insomnia without drugs, with himself as the patient, became his special study.

With two couches on the platform and two physicians as subjects he directed one of them to lie upon his back and to extend his legs so that, if possible, he might add to his length. The other subject was to lie upon his side, with his arms extended beyond the couch and also to lie at full length.

"If the person lying in this position keeps up this position," Dr. Leonard said, "he will certainly soon feel a sense of fatigue and desire to abandon that position. He will turn over on his side and curl up in the usual way. I assume that by this exertion thousands of muscular cells have been broken down and that repairs must go on."

HOLD OPEN MEETINGS.

Grade Crossing Commission Drops Policy of Secrecy.

The Grade Crossing Commission will hold open sessions in future, meeting in the House of Delegates. This announcement was definitely made by members of the commission Thursday after the secret meeting in the Mayor's office.

The commission, which after its first meeting planned to begin the abolition of grade crossings at once by abolishing that at Tower Grove, changed its plan Thursday on the suggestion of the representatives of railroads present. The entire subject of grade crossings will be taken up with a view of determining the proportion of the cost to be borne by the railroads, the property owners benefited and the municipality.

There was no difference of opinion at the meeting as to the necessity of the commission and the railroad representatives as to the necessity for abolishing grade crossings.

At the next meeting, Oct. 28, an engineering representative of each railroad entering St. Louis from the West will be present.

KINNEY TELLS COL. ABE WHAT'S WHAT

"John Thomas Brady?" He Asks, "Governor's Door Is Closed to Him."

SLUPSKY'S EYE ON D. R. F.

But Sage of Fourth Ward Says It's Folk or Nothing for Presidency.

"What," said Senator Thomas E. Kinney, leaning fondly over the table at Faust's, "do you think of John Thomas Brady trying to butt in as dictator of the Folk Administration?"

"I'll tell you," replied Col. Abe Slupsky, leaning forward with equal fondness from the other side, "you know Mr. Brady and I have been great friends since some ten years ago, when we did a job of street cleaning together; and I don't keep such close tabs on him as I once did. But," he reached a long forefinger toward the Senator, "I am advised by my Jefferson City correspondents that the Governor has ordered the door of the executive office locked against Mr. Brady. He considers him a large and unprofitable fourth, and doesn't care to draw to him."

Brady's Glory.

"But," said the Senator, "they tell me that John Thomas Brady is making an awful holler for all the glory of the Folk Administration, and insists that he's got to have Chief Kieley's scalp as a reward."

"Don't compel me to give away state secrets," said Col. Slupsky, with the air of the man who knew every bit of it. "I only care to remark that Mr. Brady will miss out on the proposition. Harry Hawes wants the same thing to get rid of Kieley; but they will not get it. If they do, it would probably be of no more use to Mr. Brady. And that reminds me, Gov. Folk was at the Horse Show Wednesday night."

"What," said the Senator, "what of that?"

"O, not much," said Col. Slupsky. "I was there, too, was on one of Gussie Busch's rigs, with Gussie Busch's hat and nearly everything else of Gussie Busch's except his side whiskers."

Folk and Francis.

"And I saw Gov. Folk and former Gov. Francis walk around the promenade. Gov. Francis was bowing right and left, and having a lovely time; people in the gallery calling 'Hello, Governor.' Gov. Folk didn't seem to be enjoying himself."

"You ought to take something for that," said the Senator, "you ought to get a dose of your own medicine."

What Kinney Would Do.

"That's a bad thing to do," said the Senator. "Nearly everybody that has gone up against Folk has had the same kind of a job to explain how it happened. And you know a good many times their explanations didn't make any difference."

"What has that to do with the presidential election?" asked Col. Slupsky.

"Folk will be the next Democratic nominee," said the Senator.

"If he is he'll be beat by 50,000 votes in St. Louis," said Col. Slupsky.

"Not," said the Senator. "Let me tell you how I would carry the town for him. If the gratters and anti-lid folks got shy on supporting him, I'd tell them: 'All right; if he isn't elected President, we'll bring him back and elect him Circuit Attorney again. Would that make 'em hustle for Joe? Well?'"

Senator's Word.

"Senator," said Col. Slupsky, as he rapped hard on wood and nodded to the waiter who came up—Senator, you are a wonder."

SLEEP WITHOUT DRUGS.

Doctor at Medical Convention Tells of New Insomnia Cure.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 12.—At the Mississippi Valley Medical Convention Dr. J. B. Leonard of Northampton, Mass., gave an interesting demonstration of his "muscular method" of inducing sleep, as opposed to the use of drugs. He said that a result of an accident 25 years ago he became a victim of insomnia. To treat insomnia without drugs, with himself as the patient, became his special study.

With two couches on the platform.

and two physicians as subjects he directed one of them to lie upon his back and to extend his legs so that, if possible, he might add to his length. The other subject was to lie upon his side, with his arms extended beyond the couch and also to lie at full length.

"If the person lying in this position.

keeps up this position," Dr. Leonard said, "he will certainly soon feel a sense of fatigue and desire to abandon that position. He will turn over on his side and curl up in the usual way. I assume that by this exertion thousands of muscular cells have been broken down and that repairs must go on."

HOLD OPEN MEETINGS.

Grade Crossing Commission Drops Policy of Secrecy.

The Grade Crossing Commission will hold open sessions in future, meeting in the House of Delegates. This announcement was definitely made by members of the commission Thursday after the secret meeting in the Mayor's office.

The commission, which after its first.

meeting planned to begin the abolition of grade crossings at once by abolishing that at Tower Grove, changed its plan Thursday on the suggestion of the representatives of railroads present. The entire subject of grade crossings will be taken up with a view of determining the proportion of the cost to be borne by the railroads, the property owners benefited and the municipality.

There was no difference of opinion at.

the meeting as to the necessity of the commission and the railroad representatives as to the necessity for abolishing grade crossings.

At the next meeting, Oct. 28, an engineering representative of each railroad entering St. Louis from the West will be present.

HART EXAMINED BY PHYSICIANS

Chicago Doctors Are Puzzled by Accused St. Louisan's Demeanor.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—A commission of physicians examined Dr. Oliver Hart, the young St. Louisan, under charge here of murdering little 13-year-old Irene Klakow and confined in the hospital of the Cook County Jail, as to his sanity at the instigation of Assistant State's Attorney James Harbison. Dr. Renger, Dr. James Kierman and Dr. Harold Meyer conducted the examination. The conclusion the doctors arrived at was kept a secret and will not be made known until Dr. Hart's case is called for trial. He was also examined by Dr. William Hunter, acting for Coroner Peter Hoffman. Experts are puzzled because Hart, alleged to be a morphine fiend, has not asked for narcotic stimulants since he attempted to commit suicide.

MURDERED AND THROWN IN LAKE

Body of Chicago Labor Leader
Found With Rope Around
His Neck.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—The police have begun an inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the murder of Louis Helms, labor leader, found in the lake at the foot of Twelfth street. A short piece of rope had been tied around the man's neck and he had been strangled to death. Detectives who viewed the body ascertained that it was likely the man had been choked to death by enemies and his body then thrown into the lake. The body was discovered by fishermen. Around the neck a railroad coupling pin was attached to a rope. The body was firmly anchored for a time, as shown by the way the rope has cut into the man's neck. The left hand of the body is lacerated, which may

NEW CITY DEPOT FACILITIES.

It is a matter of no small importance for St. Louisans, particularly of the South Side, that the Missouri Pacific Iron Mountain System, will throw open to passenger traffic on Sunday, Oct. 15, a new station on Broadway and Tesson street. There has long been a need of such facilities, and people of South St. Louis will welcome the privilege of taking Iron Mountain trains in their own part of the city. All through Iron Mountain Route passenger trains, departing from and entering Union Station will stop at the new Broadway depot.

POLICE FORCE ALL ASLEEP.

SUES MAN FOR DAMAGES WHO REFUSED TO GET A DIVORCE AND MARRY HER.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 12.—Miss Daisy Wallace of Galena, Kan., has filed suit for $22,500 damages against R. S. Waddell, one of Tulsa's best known business men, because he refuses to get a divorce and marry her. She alleges in her petition that she is deprived of the "support and society of a husband" by the situation, and wants $10,000 for that. Because she had prepared for an approaching marriage, and is now deprived thereof, "causing humiliation and mortification of facing her friends and comrades at Galena and other places," she wants $6,000, and for the suffering and loss of health caused by the acts of defendant, she wants $6,000. The extra $500 is for the trousseau she bought.

The POST-DISPATCH is the only St. Louis newspaper with Associated Press Day Dispatches.

ST. LOUIS ESTATE FOR MISSIONARIES

Miss Helen Peabody Leaves Her
Property to Establish Home.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—By the will of Miss Helen Peabody, founder of Western College for Women at Oxford, O., who died at Pasadena a few days ago, all her property is left to found a home for Christian workers in foreign and home missions. The estate consists of real estate in St. Louis, 14 shares of the Mexican Rubber Co. lots in Los Angeles and Pasadena and $600 in bonds, in all probably $50,000. Small investments in St. Louis real estate in 1885 made Miss Peabody comparatively wealthy. During the 28 years of her presidency of the college at Oxford she received no salary. When she resigned her St. Louis property had increased in value, so she was assured a comfortable income. The property is left to the Women's

YELLOW FEVER SCARE IS OVER

Scourge District Kills Germs and Mosquitoes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12.—Millions of mosquitoes and yellow fever germs were killed by the frost and cold weather which has struck New Orleans and vicinity. Although the temperature dropped to 52 degrees here, no frost was officially reported, but 35 miles from this city the ground was covered with frost. This is the first time in the history of the Weather Bureau that such cold weather has visited New Orleans so early. Ten days ago the weather was sweltering, but today and last night overcoats and wraps were worn comfortably. The cold extended to the gulf line, and

ACQUITTED OF SHOOTING.

Jury Believes Beverly Brown
Not in Car Fight.

A jury in Criminal Court acquitted Beverly Brown Friday of a charge of assault with intent to kill. Brown's defense was an alibi. It was charged that on the night of Aug. 18 Brown and a companion started trouble on a Broadway street car at Broadway and Olive street, because of negroes on the car. Brown was charged, drew a revolver and, firing several times, wounded John Rogers in the hip and Sam Edwards, a negro, in the leg. ### ASK RAILWAY FRANCHISE Promoters Would Run Line From Wellston to Florissant.

Robert L. McLaren, Edward Gorman, Stephen D. Sexton and Russell A. Richardson have filed an application with the County Clerk of St. Louis County for a franchise for a new railroad to be operated with other power than steam from Wellston to Florissant. They propose to build the new line from St. Charles road north over Klein avenue to the Natural Bridge road, then north on the Jennings Station road to Stratford avenue, in Edgewood, where it turns west on Stratford avenue to Edgewood boulevard, north to Melrose avenue, west to Jennings station road, north to Florissant road and west into Florissant.

SHOT HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW

Wilmington (N. Y.) Man Mixed Whisky and Christian Science.

WILMINGTON, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Christian Science and whisky caused John A. McGraw to shoot and kill Mrs. Mary B. Wright, his mother-in-law. The woman was conscious to the last and said she did not want him hanged. A few minutes after the shooting McGraw said he had intended to kill his mother-in-law for some time. He evidently intended to commit suicide, for he left a letter telling what to be done with his children, and saying he was driven to the act by his mother-in-law and Christian Science. He warned all to beware of Christian Scientists.

S. H. MUDGE WEDS.

Postal Telegraph Superintendent Marries Edwardsville Girl.

S. H. Mudge, superintendent of the St. Louis district of Postal Telegraph Co., and Miss Mary Charlotte Jeffers, were married at the home of the bride's parents on East Hillsboro avenue, in Edwardsville, Ill., Thursday evening.

Over 200 guests were invited and among them were many St. Louisans. Mr. and Mrs. Mudge left on a honeymoon through the East and the North, including a trip to the great lakes. Mr. Mudge was a former resident of Edwardsville. They will make their residence at 440 Vernon avenue, St. Louis, after Nov. 15.

COLLECTORS FOR CHARITY ANGRY

Resent Censure of Their Methods by President of Provident Association.

NO RESOLUTIONS PASSED

In an Animated Discussion Mr. McClain Came In for Some Criticism.

At a meeting of representatives of six homes and missions at the American Christian Volunteers' Old Ladies' and Little Children's Home, 3015 Lucas avenue, Thursday night, resolutions were introduced and discussed, condemning the action of W. H. McClain, general manager of the Provident Association, for his censure of organizations that got part of their funds through collectors.

The resolutions were not passed nor was any vote taken upon them after two hours' discussion. During the discussion the house divided into adherents and opponents of Mr. McClain, almost even.

Among the organizations' representatives were: The Bethel Home, 2942 Manchester avenue; Non-Sectarian Old People's Home, 4237 Cottage street; St. Louis Christian Home, 1722 Washington avenue; Branch Nine of the Union Mission, and the International Sunday School.

Gen. E. H. Watkins of the American Christian Volunteers opened the meeting. Brother Pope of the A. C. V. was made chairman and read the resolution after a prayer and "Praise God for the Bible" was sung to the air of Home Sweet Home.

Major H. Stephenson, of the A. C. V., told her experiences in collecting for the home, saying that he had traveled the streets many a night to get aid for the aged, sick and the young.

"I know what it is," she said, "to walk the streets with not even a cent on my feet to protect me from the wet. I wonder if those terming us grifters, know what it is to have children to bed and then go out to get money to feed them."

"I have been in the work five years and haven't 5 cents. The little commission we get is not termed salary. I'm not working for praise of man, nor salary, but for the will of God. Small homes on a small scale do a real charitable work. Some may not have the management they should have, but their object is to feed and clothe the poor and needy."

Mrs. Land of the A. C. V. said: "Old People's Home was not sure that Mr. McClain should be censured by the meeting. She would rather approve of him and his methods as being for the best interests of all charities."

"Mr. McClain seems to me to be the best man in the city. In the Home for Old People, which I have established, I have kept 25 old persons and shall continue to do so as long as my own money holds out or contributions come in. I have made this home, in which I do six women's work, a personal issue between me and the Lord. If it fails, I shall become the most bitter infidel. I'm not such a good Christian now, but I have founded this home for all time and the work must go on."

Investigation Demanded.
Mrs. Dr. Catherine Musick of Union Mission Branch No. 9 insisted that the chair read her letter of recommendation from her banker, E. C. Steel, of the Wright County Bank, endorsing her. She was, she stated, one of the grifters and terrible persons" who get 10 per cent commission for their collections.

"My income in the last year has been $20, and my output for medical attention I am a doctor, medicine and help of the needy, was over $20. I am a missionary of the Union Mission and have walked almost barefoot to the saloons where I felt my duty lay, to collect for the mission. I have worn this cloak for five years. I have no money to waste on clothes."

"Now if Mr. McClain wants to prove us grifters, there is the grand jury. I believe in equal rights for all citizens. No one dare send statements through the mail in newspapers or otherwise, to take away from one person their lawful occupation on a slanderous statement."

"Let us stand on the constitution and bring the matter before the Federal authorities. I've been assailed and eyebrows raised at me and backs turned upon me and called grifter!" "I'm in favor of investigation."

Mrs. Lucinda Cox of the A. C. V. introduced various objects of charity in the Lucas avenue home to testify as to the work done there. One of these, Mrs. Belle Holston, had lost her voice through a bad cold wrote out what she would have said.

More Unity Needed.
Mrs. H. Stephenson gave testimony, as did B. H. Claybaugh, both of the home. Mrs. Lucinda Cox gave a humorous account of how she and her husband had sent her a loaf of bread, a pair of soap, some split beans and oatmeal, which she had no fire to cook. Then, she said, the man gave her work, spent a week in the sewing room of the association for $2.40, from which the cost of the beans, bread and soap was taken, leaving her $2.66 net.

Chairman Pope, who lives at the A. C. V. home and who was chairman of the meeting, declared that all the missions and societies had an act to attend. He had been particular to ask that no hissing or clamorous applause be tolerated and his remarks were heard in painful silence.

He approved of the Provident Association, which had sent him a doctor for his wife when she was sick, he said. General Watkins of the A. C. V. declared what was needed was more unity and love in everyone's heart.

ATE POISONED BISCUITS.
Arsenic Used by Mistake for Baking Powder Causes Two Deaths.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 12.—John Holliday and his wife died three hours apart after eating poisoned biscuits made by Mrs. Holliday. While eating Mrs. Holliday commented on the mean taste of the biscuits, stating that they "burned her mouth." She went to the cupboard to investigate. Her four-year-old son and her husband continued their meal. Later both became ill. They are over 70 years old.

Arsenic had been purchased for the animals on the farm. It was given to Mrs. Holliday for sickkeeping. She put it in a baking powder can that has no label, then used it by mistake.

LAST OF FIVE, VENDETTA VICTIM

Murder of New York Italian Reveals Feud Brought From Old Country.

FOUR BROTHERS KILLED

Then the Comorra Sought Gastano Costa and Took His Life.

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The murder of Gaetano Costa, a wealthy butcher, in the rear of his shop in South Brooklyn, by four of his countrymen on Wednesday night, winds up a Sicilian feud that had reached across the ocean, and which had started a series of murders onto the second generation.
Costa was the last of five brothers. In Messina, Italy, he was at the head of a powerful family which was reputed to be wealthy. The family, leaving most of his estate in the care of an Italian, who was at the head of one of the Commune banks, the Italian vigilantes was the paramount
of the political powers of 15 years ago.

Family Ruined.

This man financially ruined the Costa estate. He embezzled more than $35-00 and Gaetano Costa and his four brothers entered into a compact to send the thiefing chief to jail or death.
The tales were turned on the Costa family. The Comorra chief marshalled his followers and one by one the Costa brothers were driven across the sea.
Gaetano arrived first, 18 years ago,
following him came Giuseppe, Vasilio, Antonio and Luigi. Into all the parts of the New World these brothers settled.
Finally met the anger of the Comorra reach them.

First Brother Slain.

Four years ago, after each had prospered, Antonio was murdered in Erie, Pa., presumed at the time to be the victim of a railroad gang. His head was cut off and about his waist was tied a blue ribbon, the insignia of a satisfied Comorra edict. Crosses were made in the snow where Antonio was slain to show to his countrymen the irresistible result of antagonizing the Sicilian political organization—the Comorra.

Other Three in Quick Succession.

Next came Giuseppe. He was stabbed in Jackson Park, Chicago, two years ago. His murderers were never sought.
About his waist, too, was tied the blue sash. In Riverside, Ill., the third murder in the Costa family occurred.
Vasilio was shot to death, and in lieu of the blue sash, blue paint was smeared over his face.

Luigi Costa, the fourth brother, was murdered in Geneva, Ill., two years ago.
Apparently Luigi was murdered. Two of his friends were killed with him, and the man who shot him was arrested, tried and afterward hanged.

Letters From Black Hand.

During last winter Gaetano received three letters from what purported to be agents of the "Black Hand." Gaetano's laugh could be heard all over the shop.
He cared little for the "Black Hand."
What he wanted to keep away from was the agents of the Comorra, and this he told most of his personal friends in South Brooklyn.

A harmonica was found in the dead man's hand. The police say he was probably shot while in the act of playing for the edification of the men who killed him.

There is mystery concerning a woman whom Costa is known to have been fond of. The police now think that this woman was an agent of those who sought Costa's death. That she learned the mode of his living, the fact that he cooked his own meals in the back of his lonely shop, and that he had few friends outside of those who are known to be against the Comorra.

The woman has disappeared.

Woman's Club Woman Says

Place Is in a Harem.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 12.—Where men like Grover Cleveland use leisure time they have from fishing trips to wall over women who go from the "divinely appointed sphere" of home and
"do man's work" in the world, and "feel such pain" when thinking of her consequent loss of refinement and womanly devotion. It shows vast ignorance of some vital facts of life. It would seem Mr. Cleveland's place, judging from his article in an October periodical, was in an Oriental harem. The progressive world about us today he seems as an anachronism," said Mrs.
Charles Chapin at a meeting of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Chapin was wildly applauded at the reference of Cleveland in a harem exactly why none of them afterward could tell.

A large number of men were in the bloom at the time and made a hasty retreat when the elephant began to grow bottles and show other evidences of intoxication. After a while the animal sat down on its haunches and sopped in liquor which it had scattered about the bar and over the floor and then fell asleep.

It required some time before the animal could be awakened and taken to the canteen.

Weinstein, in a stolid manner, refused to discuss his affairs. He is being held in the police holdover and the two women are in the charge of police matron.

The sales of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis each day are greater than the number of St. Louis homes.

the pony than Mr. G. E. Crawford, the father of the other two. The mother of the one, who sold the pony cheap to Mr. Crawford some time ago, is competent judge in America; but perhaps Judge Moore's former imported pony, the French Beauty from Paris, as the judge said, was worth $200 for him. As the judge said, it was a very good pony, but it seems that he secured an extraordinary valuable pony for almost the same price. The judge said that the four-wheeled vehicle, in which he rode to meet one of his friends, was a very good one, and was bought by Mr. Langan of St. Louis. It was a soft spot, and Gladstone and Guy Fortine, an ill-mannered fellow, were riding in it. The judge said that he had met the two states, Clementine and Meta.

THE POST-DISPATCH is the official St. Louis newspaper with Associated Press Daily Dispatches.

"I cannot understand what prompted Mr. McNary to make such a statement, unless it is because he feels aggrieved that he should have been accused of a breach of confidence. "It is all very deplorable, deplorable indeed. But the Post-Dispatch cannot quote me too emphatically in refuting the interview credited to my Massachusetts colleague."

Following his criticism of Congressmen Burleighs, Mr. McNary said, con-

"Far more important than any confidence of the German Emperor, who confidence I am accused of violating, is the statement of representatives of American houses doing business in Berlin that the United States must enter into reciprocal trade relations with Germany or take the consequences."

"The trouble with Mr. Bartholdi is that he knows what the Emperor said might be considered a reflection upon the Republican party."

FRIDAY BEDTIME STORY FOR LITTLE FOLKS

THE ICE CREAM MOUNTAIN

BY PAUL WEST "THE PEARL AND THE PUMPKIN"

ONCE there lived a little boy and his sister. They were both pretty good children, but they had one fault—they were greedy. And when they were refused a second helping of anything they would pout and be very disagreeable, to the displeasure of their parents.

One summer afternoon there had been ice cream for supper. The little boy, whose name was Alexander, and the little girl, who was called Virginia, had both pouted when their father had declined to fill their saucers the second time, and had not stopped even when their mother reminded them that they must leave a little for the servants. And when supper was over Alexander and Virginia got up from the table, forgetting to fill their napkins, and went out in the yard, where there was more room to pout in.

It struck them as a good idea to take a walk, though they knew they would not be allowed to, it was so late. But by this time they both had come to the conclusion that they were being treated very harshly by their parents, so they were quite independent. They ran out of the yard, hand in hand, and started down the street.

Finally they came to a field which they did not remember having ever seen before. They sat down on a big stone and pouted some more.

"We are both treated very cruelly," said Virginia.

"Indeed we are," said Alexander. "Think of parents refusing their children all the ice cream they want! I tell you, when I grow up I'm going to eat all the ice cream I want, even if it makes me dreadfully ill!"

"But why wait till you're grown up?" said a voice over his shoulder.

The voice didn't sound like Virginia's, and Alexander turned in surprise to see who was speaking.

To his great surprise, he saw standing on the rock a little fairy. She was not over three inches high, but very beautiful, and in the rays of the setting sun her little wings shone like gold, which, no doubt, they were.

"I said," continued the fairy, "why need you wait till you are grown up? If you want all the ice cream you can eat, come with me."

Alexander and Virginia needed no second invitation, and, rising to their feet, followed the fairy across the field and through the woods beyond. They seemed to go very fast, and soon the country through which they passed grew very strange. The air, too, from being balmy and warm, became cooler and then quite cold.

And, just as they were beginning to wish that they had not come, there loomed before them, as though out of a mist, the most remarkable mountain they had ever seen.

It was miles high, and its top disappeared in strange, silvery clouds. But that was not the most unusual thing about the mountain, its strangest point being the fact that it was of so many colors.

"Oh, see!" cried Alexander, as they came closer to the mountain. "It looks like a painted mountain!"

"It's not painted, though," said the fairy. "That is the greatest ice-cream mountain in the world, and these colors are made by the different kinds of cream. The base is all made of chocolate, on top of which comes strawberry, then vanilla, then pistachio—that's the pale-green part; next peach, raspberry, and the top, which you cannot see, owing to the spun-sugar clouds which hide it, is all made of orange ice."

"Hully!" said Alexander. "Can I have two plates of it?"

The fairy smiled. "Two plates?" she repeated. "Why you can have it all. That's what I brought you here for."

The children gasped with astonishment. "All?" they said.

"But after you have begun to eat," said the fairy, "you must not stop until you have finished the mountain. If you do there is no telling what may happen to you."

Before the fairy had finished speaking Virginia and Alexander were on the ground, each with a big spoon in hand, attacking the ice cream mountain. Every here and there from its smooth surface stuck out little pieces of cake, macaroons, lady fingers and the like, which, of course, went very well with the cream.

Alexander, being very fond of strawberry, clambered up the slippery base to the second strip, where it was pink, while Virginia, who liked chocolate very much, began at the base of the mountain.

After a while, however, they began to wonder if they had not nearly finished the mountain. "We mustn't eat it too fast," said Alexander, his mouth full of strawberry cream. "Have you used up all the chocolate?"

Virginia was about to say that she thought she had, when a glance at the mountain from which she had been digging spoonful after spoonful made her shudder. She had made scarcely any impression upon it at all!

And when Alexander looked at the strawberry part he, too, was filled with surprise, for, except a little dent in one side, it was as smooth as though it had never been touched.

So they started in again with redoubled energy, taking most impolite mouthfuls, and finally the mountain began to sink, the chocolate and strawberry stripes disappeared, and it rested on the vanilla portion.

This disappeared after a long while, and then came the pistachio.

Now few children are very fond of this pale-green ice cream. It is a cultivated taste. Even Virginia and Alexander found it hard to eat, especially as they were so full that they could hardly move.

At that moment, however, they saw the fairy who had returned.

"So you have had enough?" she said. "But you may not stop yet. You wanted all the ice cream there was, and you are having it. Go on and eat."

"And if we don't, please, ma'am?" said Alexander.

"If you don't," said the fairy, "there is a great storm gathering overhead, and it will burst in just half an hour. It will rain maple syrup, which is very sticky and disagreeable, and if you get caught in it you will be sorry. To escape you must not only finish the mountain, but it must all be gone in just time."

"Let's go out in your back yard," said Tommy Tucker, "and play in the woodshed."

"We haven't any woodshed," said the other boy. "Have you got one in your back yard?"

"Yep."

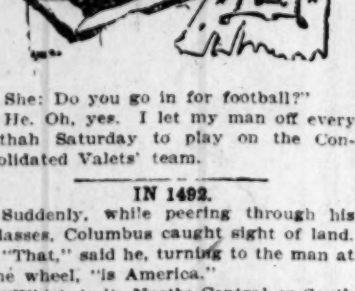

"Keep wood in it?"

"None."

"What's it used for?"

"None of your business."—Chicago Tribune.

"Which is it—North, Central or South America?" asked the boat chauffeur.

"Hanged if I know," replied Chris. "I'll get my geography and look it up."—Columbus Dispatch.

SHERMAN TO REST HERE.

His Son, Missionary Priest, Objects to Removal of Body.

Unwilling that the resting place of his father should be disturbed, Father "Tom" Sherman, the missionary priest of Chicago, is opposing the effort to move the body of William Sherman from St. Louis to the National Cemetery at Arlington Heights, near Washington, to be placed beneath a magnificent monument. His opposition is likely to end the movement. The body of the great general now lies in a simple grave in Calvary cemetery under a small shaft. Beside it are the graves of his wife, Emma, and his two sons, Charles and William. Over the grave of William, who was known to all the Union troops and to the country as the "Soldier Boy," and who died in early youth, is a monument on which are carved a drum and a bugle.

Rev. Father David Johnson, a J. at St. Louis University, has received a letter from Father Sherman, telling him of the proposal to move the body and asking him to have a photograph of the present grave made. This photograph Father Sherman intends to send to the leaders of the movement as his reason for deciding that the body shall not be disturbed.

THIS DOG ADOPTS HOMELESS CANINES

Often Seen on Broadway With Bucket Gathering Food for Them.

DIVIDES ALL HE FINDS
Restaurants Keep Scraps for Him and His Wards Have Plenty.

A dog that not only adopts homeless canines, but goes out begging with a bucket to get his foster children food, is the property of William "Chis" of 4001 South Broadway. He can be seen every day trotting along the street with his bucket at meal times in that neighborhood.

"Bob" and "Slim," whom "Sport," the begging bird-dog, has adopted, go with him on his rounds. They are more interested in the bucket than in "Sport," as was proven recently when a strange dog tried to steal a share of the food. "Sport" dropped his bucket and went for the other dog. "Bob" and "Slim" made no effort to go for the other dog, but went for the bucket.

"Sport's" best begging ground is a restaurant at 4013 South Broadway. There scraps are put away until the dog appears with what is mistaken for a "growl." The scraps are emptied into the bucket and "Sport" goes to the yard in the rear of Marshall's saloon, where he divides his spoil.

Six months ago he began the collection of food from the restaurants and he always had more than enough to eat. When a little black and white cur, now called "Bob," came snoring around the yard four months ago, "Sport" shared the contents of the bucket with him. He made an even vision of it, and although "Bob" growled when anyone came near his share, there was more than he could eat.

Second Dog Taken In.

About three weeks ago a miserable specimen of greyhound crept into the yard at meal time to imbed himself upon by "Sport," who did not look at the dog. "Sport" left the bucket, put his heavy paw on little "Bob" and invited the stranger to feast.

Reassured by the friendly wave of "Sport's" tail, the strange dog, later named "Slim," was persuaded to play. Several employees and boarders at the saloon, who had run out to watch "Sport" whip the greyhound, were much astonished to see him divide the food into three portions. "Sport" of two and invite the strange dog to eat.

Now that the bucket is full three times a day and all three dogs have more than enough, friends of "Sport" are watching to see whether he will pick up some other homeless cur and divide the scraps with him. "Sport" had made any effort to learn to carry the bucket despite "Sport's" effort to teach them.

He is old, fat, a bird dog, though he can still fight, and what his foster children will do when he dies and they have to shift for themselves is a question puzzling those who have watched the daily pattering of the bucket.

KICK ON AMATEURS.

Big Detective Agencies Make Complaint of Hampering in Canine Case.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 12.—The chase for the canine, missing since the chase for the Adams Express Co. here, who some days ago faded away with $10,000 in real money, took a somewhat humorous turn when both Pinkertons and the Pittsburgh Detective Bureau announced that they were being hampered by amateur detectives in hunting for the missing man with the money.

Many arrests in Pittsburgh and vicinity have been made of these men, armed with "phony" stars and big revolvers. Cumulative, who, it appears, appropriated $10,000 of the express company's funds, was paid a monthly salary of $1,000, according to facts made public today. This in spite of the fact that he handled perhaps several millions in money yearly for his employers. He was under $2000 bonds.

HIS CURE COMPLETE

MR. PORTER NOW ENTIRELY FREE FROM NEURALGIA.

Remedy Found in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Relief Began with First Box and Pain Now Gone Altogether.

"It seems like a miracle that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should have cured my neuralgia," said Mr. Porter. "They are certainly a marvelous medicine and I shall always be glad to recommend them."

"For two years," he continued, "I had suffered almost unendurable pains in my head. They would start over my eyes and shoot upward most frequently, but they often spread over my face and at times every part of my head and face would be full of agony. Sometimes the pains were so intense that I actually feared they would drive me mad."

"My eyes ached constantly and there was always a burning sensation over my forehead, but the other pains varied; sometimes they were acute, and again they were dull and lingering. I could not sleep. My temper was irritable and I got no pleasure out of life. I tried remedy after remedy, but finding no help in any of them, I became a despairing man. Even when I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I had no great hope of a cure."

"That was in December of 1903. To my surprise, a change in my condition took place right away. The pains grew less intense and the acute attacks were further apart, as I kept on using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The improvement began with the first box, and when I used six boxes I stopped. My nerves were complete and has lasted ever since."

Mr. Charles H. Porter lives at Raymond, New Hampshire, and is well known as the proprietor of the Hotel Raymond. He is one of many grateful people who have found that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure diseases of the nerves that have stubbornly resisted every other remedy tried. The nerves are fed through the blood and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, by making new blood, cure the cause of nervous troubles. They do not simply deaden pain, but they cure the disease that causes the pain, and build up the strength by purifying and enriching the blood. Not only neuralgia, but sciatica, partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia yield to them. They are sold by all druggists, or may be obtained directly from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

THE END NOT YET, NEGRO CHASED THREE GIRLS

Deposed Wabash President Un-certain What Action He Will Take.

"I WAS BADLY WHIPPED"
Back in St. Louis, Says He Parted Friends With Mr. Gould.

Hunted in his fight for control of the Wabash at the annual election of directors in Toledo Wednesday, Ex-President Joseph Ramsey Jr. has returned to St. Louis, still full of fight and still confident that defeat may be turned into ultimate victory.

Mr. Ramsey held a long conference Friday with Attorney Fred W. Lehmann, who represented him in the injunction proceedings here.

Mr. Ramsey is uncertain at this time what steps he will take to continue the war on the Gould forces.

"I Was Whipped."
"I was badly whipped at Toledo," said Mr. Ramsey, "but the fight is not over."

"There is very little to say, further than what the newspapers have already reported on the contest at Toledo. I would have been elected a director if the proxies I held had not been thrown out. But there is another fight still on."

Mr. Ramsey reiterated his previous statement that he had never, at any time, been elected director of the Wabash Railroad Co., voted the Wabash stock held by the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain Railroad companies.

"Until three or four months ago," said he, "I did not know the Mountain and Missouri Pacific owned these Wabash holdings. I certainly never used them or my knowledge as a Wabash election."

Returned With Officials.

Mr. Ramsey came back in one of the Wabash private cars with W. H. Blodgett, E. B. Pryor, assistant to the president; C. N. Travers and B. C. Winston, attorneys for the Wabash, and his brother-in-law, Col. A. D. Palmer of New York.

He said that he parted with George Gould at Toledo Wednesday night at the close of the count of votes in a pleasant way, and the latter invited him to call on him at his office in New York.

Without going into details concerning the Toledo election, Mr. Ramsey declared that 60,000 votes which should have been cast for him were thrown out.

DIAMOND CHAT

The charges being circulated in various quarters that the fall series has been "fixed" by the players, has aroused considerable ferment among the members of the coaching team, who stoutly deny the charges. "Jack" Powell, the "Brown" big pitcher, was exceptionally brilliant at the time. The trend of events the past few days proves the statement made by Manager McAleer, when the subject of the series was first broached. "Better leave them alone," said he, "they have had enough of tail-end baseball."

RUGBY NOTES

Arrangements are now under way for a game between the football teams of Washington University and Texas, to be played at St. Louis, early in November. The Texas team will start its Northern tour Oct. 20. It seems probable that St. Louis will be included in the itinerary.

Pete Hatican, quarterback and captain of the St. Louis eleven, is suffering from a broken nose sustained in the game last Saturday. Stiles and Hines of the regulars are also out of shape.

Pennsylvania at present seems to be in a bad way. Capt. Reynolds, Halfback Greene and Quarterback Stevenson are under the ban of the faculty. Wide and Hollenback, two stars, are out of the game with broken legs. The Quakers have a lot of big men out of gear. Horst weighs 240 pounds, Reiger 200, Hines 200, Vogel 185 and Hosen 170.

Dartmouth has a 240-pounder in Dillingham, who comes from Taunton, Mass. He will be tried out at camp.

The C. B. O. football team is in sore straits financially. The C. B. O. Alumni Association, which has succeeded the Paulian A. O. in the management of athletics at the college, is planning a theatrical entertainment for Nov. 8 in order to raise funds for the support of athletes. About $400 is needed.

Princeton is proclaiming Simons, the intercollegiate broad jump champion, the most brilliant back ever seen at the Tiger University.

McCormick, the old English High School boy and later with Exeter, will probably be shifted from full to one of the vacant halfback positions at Princeton.

Dillon, quarter for Andover two years ago, is making a good bid for the position at Princeton.

Edgar Glass has promised Capt. Sherrin of Yale that he will donate his services for one week when they are most needed as coach on Yale field.

On Oct. 14 a team of ex-Cornell football players will play Yale "Varsity." It all depends on whether the former stars can be gathered together or not. Arrangements for the game are under way now.

Caution is Train Mack's watchword and the police already appear in the caption of the Yale team.

W. D. O'Brien, the Exeter and quarter-back, is the one of the best players in the Yale team. This boy was slated for Yale last year.

Tanner, the crack fullback of Exeter Acad., his intention of doing. However, as the Harvard wrestler is an adept in the use of the foot, he is not likely to be barred, the bout promises to be one of the fiercest ever held in this city.

Owing to the announcement that will be brought into play, the men will have four by means of signals, in case either is rendered helpless by the other without a fall being made.

It was a sorry showing Washington University made Wednesday against the second-class St. Charles M. A. eleven. Instead of the Michigan score that Fairweather's charges expected to run up, the team struggled through 15-minute halves without either being able to score.

Many substitutes were put in the Myrtle and Maroon line during the first half, the intention being to save Lehmann and others for Saturday's game with Arkansas. Before the game was over, however, all the regulars were in and still the St. Charles boys thwarted all attempts to score. Once Washington got the oval as far as the 10-yard line, but the soldiers held and Dan Dillon attempted a drop kick which failed.

It is said to think what will be left Washington in the corner of Delmar avenue and King's highway boulevard, unless the signatures of the property owners in the block.

The Anti-Saloon League is supporting the congregation in the fight, which will probably be one of the bitterest of the several controversies that have arisen over the same saloon. The fight against the opening of a saloon in the corner has been going on for 12 years, with success sometimes on one side and then on the other. The last saloon was closed a few months ago and it is the shelves.

OLD FIGHT ON SALOON.

Resolutions were adopted at the fall meeting of the St. Louis Association of Congregational Churches, held at Fountain Park Church Thursday night, asking the Executive Committee of the League of Ministers to withhold a license for a saloon at the corner of Delmar avenue and King's highway boulevard, unless the signatures of the property owners in the block.

NEGRO CHASED THREE GIRLS

Policeman Caught Him by Ruse Then He Broke Loose and Escaped.

GIRLS DID NOT WAIT
While Officers Were Chasing Man Who Had Annoyed Them They Disappeared.

When three girls, running south on Taylor avenue near midnight, saw the star of Policeman John Moore of the Eleventh District shining from the doorway of 328 North Taylor avenue, where he was standing in the shadow, they ran up to him and told him a negro was following them and annoying them.

He told them to keep on running and he would catch the negro for them. They ran on south and a moment later a negro came by. The policeman jumped out and grabbed him. He gave his name as Earl Robinson and his address as 4345 Lindell boulevard.

Escaped From Officers.
The girls came back and were starting to tell the policeman what Thompson had done, when he broke away and ran west on Lindell boulevard. Moore pursued him and the subject was joined in the chase.

Both policemen shot at him. The bullets struck the residence of S. P. Humes, 400 Delmar boulevard. The negro ran faster and got away.

When the policemen returned to Delmar and Taylor they found that the girls had not waited for them.

INDIANS BEAT GAMBLERS.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 13.—Going over to the Winnebago Indian Reservation at Winnebago, Wis., a bunch of sure thing race players from St. Louis City went against a game of the Indians working and came off losers to the estimated sum of $250.

Whites have been getting Indian money for years in horse races. This time the St. Louis City bunch backed Pat Orah, a speedy enough runner, and the reds brought out a horse named "Buckeye" which looked like he had been rounding up cows. A 20-pound Winnebago straddled him and yet came in an easy winner. The reds had bought Bald Eagle in Kentucky for $1000. The horse cleaned out the whites gave them more delight than a bunch of scalps.

DIAMOND CHAT

AMERICAN CIGAR CO. METHODS. "IN THE CURING BARRS."

The "A" merit-mark on a box of cigars is YOUR guarantee of a good cigar—wherever you buy, whatever you pay, whenever you smoke.

In New York, St. Louis, San Francisco or New Orleans—to-day, next week or a year hence—whatever the brand name—you are always sure of a better smoke for your money if the "A" mark is on the box.

'IVY' CIGAR FIVE CENTS

The "A" (Triangle A) mark identifies the product of the American Cigar Company's new systematic processes for improving the smoking qualities of tobacco. An organization and equipment, complete in every detail from the growing plant to the storing of the finished product, has revolutionized the old hap-hazard methods.

The result is a uniformity in rich, fully-ripened, thoroughly-matured and genuinely-blended tobacco heretofore hardly dreamed of. Test your benefit with an "Ivy" cigar, 5 cents—one of the remarkable products of these latter-day methods.

In all good cigar stores.

Trade supplied by PETER HAUPTMANN TOBACCO CO., St. Louis, Mo.

GIRL PUT MASKED MEN TO FLIGHT

Grabs Pistol Aimed at Her by Robber and Is Seriously Wounded.

RUNS TO GET SHOTGUN

Bandits Escape in Buggy and Are Pursued by Illinois Sheriff.

GALESBURG, Ill., Oct. 12.—Miss Nora Mather, 24 years old, is the slightly wounded heroine of an encounter in which she put two masked robbers to flight.

Miss Mather was on the front porch of the Goddard residence, where she lives, when a masked man came up behind her and, thrusting a revolver into her face, demanded her to surrender all the valuables in the house.

The young woman grabbed the bandit's revolver with one hand and with the other tore the mask from his face. At the same moment the robber fired, the ball passing through her arm and tearing holes in her clothing.

Miss Mather broke away from the robber and ran into the house. She got a shotgun in an instant, but when she returned the thief had run to the road, where a companion, also masked, was waiting in a buggy, and the two drove rapidly away.

Sheriff Harburgh and deputies were notified by telephone and started in pursuit of the robbers.

WIDE FAME OF COL. JERE HUNT

MISS KATHERINE BELL.

Actress Katherine Bell Says It Equals That of Chauncey Depew.

Miss Katherine Bell, who plays the part of Jane, one of the lost babes in "Babes in Toyland," at the Olympic next week, says that Col. Jere Hunt of St. Louis is as famous throughout this country as Chauncey Depew or any of the Vanderbilts.

This opinion was expressed in a recent comment on the wide advertising which St. Louis has received owing to the World's Fair. Miss Bell first found occasion to point out that the great department stores of St. Louis were now as well known as those of New York, and that certain restaurants in this city had attained national celebrity. Then she paid her little compliment to Col. Jere Hunt.

Miss Bell herself is a Philadelphian, but that's not her fault.

MAN AND BURGLAR FALL 3 STORIES

Continue Struggle in Street After Tumble From Roof—Thief Escapes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—In a desperate struggle between a negro burglar and Samuel Darragh on the top of the three-story building at 1018 Cherry street, both men missed their footing and fell 50 feet to the street last night.

By the smallest margin they missed the mortar box and struck a pile of sand where the struggle continued, ending in the escape of the burglar through the weakness of Darragh, whose arm was injured.

Darragh's injuries were serious enough to cause him to be taken to Hahnemann Hospital, though he was able to leave the hospital several days later. The negro's injuries did not affect his speed, as he turned up a side street and disappeared.

GOLD IN TREASURY.

Amount Reached $741,832,593 at Close of Business.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Gold in the Treasury at the close of Thursday's business totaled the amount of $741,832,593.

The present unprecedented supply of gold and the tendency for it to continue to increase is attributed in large part to the increased production of the yellow metal.

It is also true that there has been a steady inflow of gold from abroad. The importations from both Paris and London, though not large enough in any one shipment to attract general attention, have been steady enough to increase the yellow hoard at the New York treasury very materially.

The importations of gold are due in part to the fact that the Japanese have been paying the foreign bills through the United States and have been sending their gold to San Francisco. Simultaneous with the receipt of the gold in San Francisco, the Japanese have been giving New York credit, which they have used to meet their foreign obligations.

The inflow of gold from Paris has been due in part to the fact that there were accumulations at the French capital designed to meet the expected Russian indemnity loan. This has been true, also, of the importations from London and other foreign points.

WAITED TILL GOT DRINK.

Coachman Took Several; Forgot Bridegroom, Nearly Breaking Up Wedding.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 12.—A forgetful coachman delayed the wedding of Miss Dora Martine to Joseph Garie three hours last night, threw the bride into tears, the bride party into confusion, the bridegroom into a passion and sent the bride guests scurrying after him.

Mr. Garie's name was last on the list of guests which William Johnson, the coachman, was instructed to bring to the home of the bride, coaches being scarce just then in Trenton. All went well until Johnson reached Garie's name.

"I guess that fellow can wait till I get a drink," said the coachman. He got several and into a political debate. Meanwhile the bridegroom was fuming at home. He waited two hours and then walked to the bride's house, where he found everything in confusion and the bride in tears.

Matters were explained, the searches called in and the wedding went on.

JEROME LEFT OUT.

Tammany Nominates Osborne for District Attorney.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—James W. Osborne has been nominated by Tammany for District Attorney. Mr. Jerome's name is not being even mentioned. Mr. Osborne was formerly an assistant of District Attorney Jerome. He accepted. Mr. Jerome is making an independent campaign for re-election. Other nominations by the Democratic party have been made. Included: Henry L. Gladders, George L. J. Graham and Joseph E. Newburger; for Sheriff, Nicholas J. Hayes.

NO FEATHERS ON HATS.

American Humane Society Would Change Style of Women's Headgear.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—If the American Humane Society has its way women may be arrested eventually for wearing bird feathers on their hats. At the closing session of the association's meeting, Dr. William O. Stillman, president of the organization, suggested that steps be taken to secure the passage of laws prohibiting the wearing of such headgear and that offenders be summoned to the police court.

The suggestion was received with emphatic approval.

NAIL PENETRATED BRAIN.

Accident Following Attempt to Move Balking Mules Kills Man.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CLEARFIELD, Pa., Oct. 12.—W. L. Lamson, a teamster, is dying. He was driving a team of mules that balked. Washington Grove, a blacksmith, tied a temporary nail to the hub of a long whip with which to counsel the mules to move. At the first swish of the whip the nail snapped off and penetrated Lamson's skull above the eye. Physicians say Lamson cannot recover.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. Joseph Therault, an undertaker, confessed to hiding the box, claiming that he was unable to fulfill his contract to bury it.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING MIDLAND VALLEY SMOKELESS COAL

PRICE ONLY $6.25 PER TON

Midland Valley Coal is especially adapted for use in furnaces, grates, hot water heaters, soft coal heating stoves and cooking stoves. It is much more economical than Pennsylvania Anthracite. United States Government tests show that 1700 pounds of Pennsylvania Anthracite equal a cord of oak wood, while it takes only 1572 pounds of Midland Valley Coal to do the same work.

Midland Valley Coal will make some slack in handling, which is really an advantage in using the coal economically.

When banking the fire, put on lump coal and cover it with wet slack. This will form coke, and with the drafts properly arranged, will hold fire for from twenty-four to thirty-six hours. Be sure to have the drafts properly arranged. When more heat is required, open the draft and shake down the ashes, but do not stir or poke the fire. Always carry a heavy, thick fire during cold weather, and regulate with check draft. Never put in coal without first shutting off lower draft and having pipe draft to flue on full.

By observing the above directions, Midland Valley Coal will give entire satisfaction. The coal will be almost entirely consumed, making very little ash or waste.
